Antiques Trade Gazette (London, UK)

"We've been using the program for a few years now and have been delighted with the results. Our department produces up to a dozen catalogues a week, which have to be back with our customers very quickly due to the nature of our industry. The program allows us to save a great deal of valuable time by automatically importing images, style sheets and formatting. This allows us to be more competitive in the marketplace and therefore more successful in our business." Michele Helliwell, Catalogue Manager
